How it will work

Twilio will make calls , send the calls to ngrok (it is a proxy to connect local host running on my device with Twilio) ,

For localhost we will use Flask framework , then we will establish a stream socket between twilio and our local host.